QUEENS COLLEGE

HISTORICAL

PRIOR to 1770 there were in the Province including Mecklenburg County only two academies which were chartered by the Legislature and approved by the King and Council, which had the power to confer degrees. One was at Edenton; the other at New Bern. However, there were within the Province other classical schools having a more or less extended curriculum. Of these, Queens College or Museum, was the best. This school was established at an early date and flourished about 1766 under the Rev. Joseph Alexander, who was connected with Sugar Creek Church.

On January 15, 1771, the Colonial Legislature granted Queens College a charter and empowered it to confer the degrees of B.A. and M.A. upon its graduates. The notorious Edmund Fanning is named first in the list of trustees, and was the first president of the institution. Many of his interests were in the North; so on June 21, 1771, he left North Carolina and went to New York with Governor Tryon. What time he had resided in North Carolina he had lived in Orange County; consequently he could have but little to do with the operation of the school, though the charter required that all the diplomas be signed by the president, who had to be of the Established Church and who had to be licensed by the Governor after his appointment by the fellows and trustess of the college. The next session of the Legislature, in December, 1771, amended the charter so that degrees could be conferred in the absence of the president, "who is now out of the Province."

The amended charter, a section of which stated that a duty of six pence a gallon should be put on all rum and liquors brought into and dispensed in Mecklenburg County to be collected and paid to the treasurer of the college, was approved by the Royal Governor and the Crown Attorney, and was forwarded in March, 1771, to the King for his action. In April, one year later, the act was disallowed by the King. The furor raised by this disallowance led directly to the demand for the "Education Clause" in the Constitution of the United States.

In April, 1777, the first Legislature of the State of North Carolina incorporated the institution under the name of Liberty Hall, but referred in the act to its former existence and usefulness, which had been disturbed by the Revolutionary War.

The college had been transferred to Winnsboro, South Carolina, by the Presbyterians, but brought back again before the Rev. Robert Burwell and Margaret Anne Burwell came to Charlotte from Hillsboro, North Carolina, in 1857, and took charge of the institution which they called "The Charlotte Female Institute."

In 1901 the college went under ecclesiastical control and was named the Presbyterian College for Women, and it remained under this name until 1912, when it was removed to Myers Park, where the present group of buildings was built and the college given its original name—Queens College.

All courses have been revised and brought up to the standard requirements of the State Board of Education and other standardizing agencies. Queens College offers only the B.S. and A.B. degrees. Other courses will offer credits towards one of these degrees, and with the courses offered, a student may elect just such work as her talents demonstrate she is capable of doing to the best advantage.

LOCATION

Charlotte is an ideal location for a Woman's College. It is the largest city between Richmond and Atlanta, and young women pursuing their studies here have advantages which cannot be had in smaller places. Many distinguished lecturers, musicians, and artists of whatever sort, who visit the South, are to be seen or heard in Charlotte. The city is eight hundred feet above the sea, and has an average temperature of fifty-nine degrees Fahrenheit, the United States Government Weather Bureau reporting twenty-one degrees above zero as the lowest temperature for the year 1913, and fifteen degrees for 1914.

THE BUILDINGS

There are five main College buildings, constituting the essential part of a broad scheme of development. All these buildings are built of Indiana limestone and tapestry brick, and roofed with tile, presenting an imposing group of handsome structures, rarely excelled.

The administration building is one hundred and fifty-two feet long, and contains the college parlors, offices, library, society halls, Y. W. C. A. rooms, seven recitation rooms, dining rooms, and fireproof kitchen. No students sleep in this building.

The Science and Art building is one hundred and ten feet long. In this building are housed the chemistry, physics, and biology laboratories, with several recitation rooms on the first floor. On the second floor are the Art rooms, looking upon the front campus; while in the center and rear are the physical culture rooms. The gymnasium is fifty-two feet long and fifty-one feet wide. In connection with the gymnasium and athletic work, are tiled-floored rooms for private showers, and lockers.

The Music Building is one hundred and ten feet long, and contains the College Chapel, and twenty-six other rooms for the exclusive use of the music department. The Chapel has a seating capacity of five hundred, and is equipped with a three-manual organ and two concert grand pianos. The practice rooms are equipped entirely with new pianos.

The two dormitories are replicas of each other. Like all the other College buildings, they are limited to two stories. Each is one hundred and sixty-nine feet long. Between every two rooms is a lavatory and private bath, with running hot and cold water. Each room has a large trunk and clothes closet, also window seat, two windows, two dressers, two single beds, three chairs, two electric lights, one table, and one wall mirror six feet long. The most modern system of steam heating has been adopted. No longer will the dormitories be known as North and South Dormitories; but by designation of the Alumnae Association, the North Hall is hereafter to be officially known as Lily W. Long Hall, and the South Hall as the Mildred Watkins Hall, and students will hereafter be so assigned.

PRACTICE HOUSE

A new Practice Home for Domestice Science students makes it possible for them to live in this home, keep their own accounts, and put into practice the things that have been learned in class room and laboratory.

GOVERNMENT

The Student Government Association of Queens College, based upon a charter granted by the Board of Trustees of the institution, has partial control, not only of the student activities, but also of student conduct.

The officers of this association are: a President elected from the Senior class; from each building of residence one Vice-President, who is also from the Senior class; a Secretary from the Junior class; and a Treasurer from the Sophomore class.

These officers with two additional members of the Senior class, two from the Junior, and one each from the Freshman, the Irregular, and the Special class, constitute the Student Council. Acting with the Student Council is an Advisory Committee composed of the President of the College, the Dean and one representative from the Faculty.

With the President of the College rests the final decision in all matters pertaining to the best interests of the College.

OUR IDEALS

Deeming any system of education incomplete that fails to recognize the three-fold nature of the student's need, we strive to develop physical, mental and spiritual power.

A commodious gymnasium in charge of a trained director enables each student to obtain the kind of exercises that will contribute most to her bodily welfare. A beautiful and extensive campus furnishes abundant opportunity for games and athletics, and lures out of doors.

A curriculum offering four years of college work presents a broad field of electives, but emphasizes a thorough familiarity with those subjects that lay a solid foundation for a superstructure of culture in any of the arts and sciences.

Queens College, though founded by Presbyterians and embodying the ideals of the Presbyterian Church, is not sectarian. The religious preferences of its students are scrupulously respected. The aim of the College is to develop "Christian Women for Christian Homes" without regard to denomination. We lay stress, therefore, on the home feature of the school, emphasizing every influence that sweetens, cultivates, and spiritualizes womanly character.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS

Queens College admits students to the Freshman Class in the following ways:

(1) Graduates from accredited high schools in North Carolina and other States, without examination.

(2) Graduates from non-accredited high schools in North Carolina and other States, by examination.

I. As Unconditioned Freshmen—For admission to the Freshman Class without condition, the Candidate for the A.B. or the B.S. degree must present 15 units, partly required and partly elective, as per exhibits above.

II. As Irregular Students—Students who desire to take work in Music, Art, or Home Economics, will be received upon the same basis as others, viz., graduation from accredited high schools or examination. They will be allowed another grouping of entrance units, however, if necessary; but must have three units in English and two in Mathematics. Fifteen hours a week shall be the recitation period requirement, which may include Music and Art, with at least nine hours of these devoted to Academic work. Any subsequent change, looking towards a degree, will be subject to all requirements for that degree as to entrance units and subsequent courses. Irregular students will be without class standing.

III. Special Students—Any woman who is unable, for any cause, to present the entrance requirements, may be admitted to such courses as she may be able to take, provided these courses are not among those covered by the entrance requirements. This provision is made for the purpose of covering classes who have been out of high school for a considerable time, and the credit of whose work may have become void. Such entrants must be over twenty years of age, be deprived of class standing, and not take up a regular degree course until entrance requirements shall have been met.

IV. To Advanced Standing—Applicants for admission to classes above the Freshman must submit official statement of credit and a letter of honorable dismissal from the institution in which work has been done. Only students from standard institutions will be received eundem gradum, and in no case will a student be received with the idea of graduation for less than one entire session's resident work in this institution.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARTS OR BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

To receive the B.A. or B.S. degree from Queens College, students must complete, to the satisfaction of the Faculty, sixty-two hours of work, of which two shall be in the gymnasium. Three years' work in Gymnasium will count as two hours credit.

These degrees will be conferred by the trustees upon the recommendation of the Faculty Committee on Classification, only when a student has completed with credit one-half of her Junior work and one-half of her Senior work.

NOTE—Two grades of marking for Junior and Senior years have been adopted, "Passed" and "With Credit."

Three units required.

ALGEBRA, 2 units. Factors, common divisors and multiples, fractions, simple equation with applications to problems, involution and evolution, theory of exponents, surds and imaginaries, quadratic equations (including the theory) systems involving quadratic and higher equations, inequalities, ratio and proportion, variations, arithmetical and geometrical progressions, binominal theorem for positive integral exponents.

At least two years with daily recitations should be given to Algebra. The use of the graphical methods and illustrations, particularly in connection with the solution of equations, is required.

PLANE GEOMETRY, one unit. The subject is presented by Wells, Wentworth-Smith, Hall and Knight. Much attention must be given to originals. At least one year with daily recitations should be given to Plane Geometry. A recent review of Arithmetic is urged.

HISTORY

The student must offer one unit, and may offer three. The preparation in History should include, besides the study of a modern high school text-book, (a) parallel reading, (b) a notebook, (c) taking of notes, and (d) the filling in of outline maps.

GREEK AND ROMAN HISTORY, one unit.

MEDIEVAL AND MODERN EUROPEAN HISTORY, from 800 A.D. to present time, one unit.

ENGLISH HISTORY, one unit.

AMERICAN HISTORY, one unit.

It is strongly urged that every student offer for entrance Greek and Roman History. Let the student bring her notebook to college, or send it in advance to the Registrar.

LATIN

LATIN GRAMMAR, one unit. A thorough knowledge of all regular inflections, and the common irregular forms; the simpler rules for composition and derivation of words; syntax of nouns and verbs, structure of sentences, with special emphasis upon relative and conditional sentences, indirect discourse, and the uses of the subjunctives. At least one year with daily recitations.

CÆSAR, one unit. Gallic War I-IV, or an equivalent amount of Latin selected from The Civil War or Nepos. Latin Composition.

CICERO, one unit. Seven orations; six, if the Manilian Law be one. The preferred orations are the four against Catiline, for Achias, and the Manilian Law. Latin composition. Those who receive credit must be able to write in good Latin simple narrative based upon the text read. This ability can be secured only by systematic, thorough work in prose composition.

VIRGIL, one unit. The Æneid, Books I-VI. Roman Mythology. The scanning of hexameter verses. Latin Prose Composition, one hour a week. The Latin Prose Composition of this year should include a thorough review of the principles taught in the previous years. Four recitations a week for one year will be necessary to do this work.

The third and fourth years in Latin, if not offered for entrance, may be taken after entrance. The fourth year of Latin thus taken in college may satisfy the requirements for Freshman Latin.

All students who present entrance requirements in Latin, even from accredited schools, but who have not had Latin Prose Composition as indicated in the courses outlined above will be required to take this work after entrance.

SCIENCE

The student must offer one unit, and may offer two. Each unit should represent the work of one year, and should include individual laboratory work. This laboratory work should be directed by a competent instructor, and recorded in a notebook while in the field or laboratory. The notebook, endorsed by the instructor who supervised the work, must be presented before the student can be admitted to college.

BOTANY, one-half unit. Course may be based upon Bergen's' Elements of Botany, or Coulter's Plant Relations, and should include simpler experiments in seed germination and plant anatomy. An herbarium of twelve or more plants should be presented.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY, one-half unit. The subject should be studied with the aid of the best texts, as Tarr's or Davis'.

PHYSIOLOGY, one-half unit. A course based upon Martin's Human Body, or Foster and Shore.

PHYSICS, one unit. Amount of work required is represented by such texts as Gage, Millikan and Gale, or Hoadley. The laboratory work must include at least thirty-five selected exercises.

CHEMISTRY, one unit. This course covers General Inorganic Chemistry, embracing a study of metals and non-metals.

ADDITIONAL

The following subjects may be presented for entrance, according to the regulations before described:

FRENCH

The preparation should comprise:

1. A thorough knowledge of the rudiments of grammar, including the essentials of syntax, with mastery of the regular verbs.

2. Thorough and constant work in prose composition.

3. Careful drill in pronunciation and practice in conversation. It is essential that the candidate acquire the ability to follow a recitation conducted in French, and to answer in that language questions asked by the instructor.

4. The reading of at least three hundred duodecimo pages of simple French from four authors.

Fraser and Squair's French Grammar is highly recommended.

SPANISH

The entrance work in Spanish requires:

1. A thorough drill in Spanish Grammar, especially proficiency in the forms of declension and conjugation.

2. Translation of prose and poetry. It is believed that the requisite facility can be acquired by reading not less than two hundred duodecimo pages of simple Spanish.

3. Practice in pronunciation, in writing Spanish from dictation, in free reproduction, and in the use of simple Spanish phrases in the class room if necessary.

GREEK

A thorough knowledge of Greek Grammar. From the beginning there must be translation of simple prose into English. One unit.

XENEPHON, one unit. Three books of the Anabasis. Special attention should be paid to Greek syntax to the use of good English in translating.

Thorough drill in prose composition is necessary.

IMPORTANT REGULATIONS

No diploma will be delivered until all bills are settled.

A graduation fee of five dollars for Diploma is charged at the close of the College Course.

To be permitted to proceed with her class, the student must make by recitation, test reviews, and examinations during the year, an average of at least seventy-five. Examinations will occur at the end of each semester.

Students failing on as much as one-half their work for the first semester will be asked to withdraw at the close of that semester.

The results of the examinations, combined with the average of class standing and test reviews, are included in the reports at the end of the term, and this combined report determines the standing of the pupil in her classes. Absence from examinations will not be excused, except at discretion of the Faculty.

When pupils have selected a course of study, they will be required to adhere to it, unless permitted by the Classification Committee to make a change.

No course will be offered for fewer than three students.

ATTENDANCE

Frequent absences from class necessarily result in the lowering of grades. As it is one of the chief objects of the institution to maintain a high standard of scholarship, the following regulations concerning attendance upon college duties have been adopted:

1. All students should report promptly for registration on the opening date of the session. Those entering after regular registration period is closed will be fined $1.00 per day for each day's delay.

2. For each absence above three from any one class during the first semester, or for each absence above four for the second semester (or vice versa), the grade of the student in that class will be lowered to the extent of five points. Students who are on the campus, who are able to be in the dining room at meal time, or to be out of their rooms, will be expected to report to classes.

3. Three tardies will count as one absence. A student who is not present at the beginning of roll call will be counted as tardy.

4. No student will be permitted to go home or elsewhere for the week-end oftener than once each calendar month. By "week-end" is meant from 3:30 p. m. Saturday to 7:00 p. m. the following Monday. Students will be required to register in the Dean's office the hour of leaving and the hour of return. Cases of those traveling necessarily by a train scheduled for an hour earlier than 3:30 p. m. will be regarded as exceptions to this regulation.

5. Cases of prolonged absence from class, or of accumulated absences, because of illness of the student, will be brought before the faculty for special consideration.

6. Points will be given for unnecessary absence from chapel exercises. Three tardies will be counted as an absence.

7. Students who absent themselves from appointed tests and examinations are required to make up such tests and examinations before credit may be received for work done. Such students will appear for these extra tests and examinations on the date fixed by the teacher of the subject. Before reporting to the teacher for the extra test or examination, the student must have paid the required fee of $1.00 to the Registrar.

COURSES OF STUDY

ART

MISS BREMER

A knowledge of fine and decorative arts is essential to a thorough, symmetrical education, and the object of the Art Department is to provide this instruction.

The course in full leads to a Certifice in Art. The method is the same as that used now in the best art schools. The time of the student is devoted to the study of the principles which underlie all true work in art, and their application in well graded exercises. One well lighted studio is abundantly equipped with casts and every appliance necessary to study.

Freshman Year

Drawing in charcoal and pencil from plaster casts of geometric solids, objects, fruits and flowers and the study of light and shade. Theory of color, and its application in the rendering of simple colored objects in still life, such as pottery, fruits, flowers, etc. Principal of pictorial composition in simple lines and values. Ten hours per week.

Sophomore Year

Drawing from plaster casts of heads, feet, hands, etc., in charcoal and the rendering of the surfaces in their proper values. Still life in water colors and more advanced work in color harmonies as applied to design and poster work. Continuation of pictorial composition. Ten hours per week.

Junior Year

Drawing from casts with the idea of a thorough knowledge of the principles of construction and values. Painting from still life, and nature in water colors and oils. Sketching, composition and poster work. Free hand and theoretical perspective. Ten hours per week.

History of Art. Credit, 1 hour.

Senior Year

More advanced drawing and painting from still life, life and nature. Decorative designs in two or more values and the analysis and convenialization of flowers, bugs, animals, etc., and their application to design in colors.

Continuation of pictorial composition and perspective. Ten hours per week.

History of Art. Credit, 1 hour.

Courses in Design and China Painting are given.

For students in Domestic Art a course is given in the study of Design and the factors which control it. This course includes studio practice and lectures on the fundamental principles of Design, Proportion, Subordination, Balance, Rhythm, Symmetry, Composition and Color Harmony, as applied to textiles, costume and home furnishing.

Students will be admitted to classes for no less than a half year, and are required to furnish their own supplies, and still-life materials at the direction of the teacher.

Work shall be left in the studio until after the exhibit.

Certificates will be awarded to all pupils who cover the thorough courses in Drawing, Color, and Art History, and include in their literary work three hours of Psychology, and the B.A. requirements in Eiglish and History. Remaining hours to be elective.

ATHLETICS

Out-of-door work during Spring and Fall includes hikes, basketball, tennis and swimming at the Y. W. C. A. This work aims to provide the general health of the body and to teach good sportsmanship.

Class basketball games are held in February, Field Day events take place in March, and the May Day Festival in May.

Good tennis courts are provided and the Winter is so mild that there are opportunities for out-of-door sports during the entire year. Tennis tournaments are held in May.

All pupils must be provided with white tennis shoes, black sateen or poplin bloomers, white middy blouses and black ties for gymnasium classes.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The general aim of Physical Education is identical with that of all education. The specific aims are hygienic, disciplinary and recreative. It is the purpose of this department to maintain and improve the health of the individual, to establish habits of good posture and to develop co-ordination and team play.

Two hours a week in practice gymnastics is required of all students, except Seniors and those excused by doctor's certificates.

No student can be recommended for a degree who has not fulfilled the requirements of this department which are—passing with credit (85) in Junior year, and passing (75) in Freshman and Sophomore years.

REQUIRED COURSES

COURSE I—Required of all Freshmen. Marching, running, simple tactics, free-hand exercises, corrective exercises, games and simple rhythmic dances. Talks on Personal Hygiene.

COURSE II—Continuation of Course I. Required of all Sophomores. Formal military drills and tactics, advanced setting up exercises, corrective exercises, practice teaching, and folk dancing. Talks on First Aid.

COURSE III—Continuation of Course II. Required of all Juniors. Formal and informal gymnastic exercises, dumb bell, indian club and wand drills, corrective exercises, technique of aesthetic and folk dancing. Practice teaching with lesson plans. Credit of two hours for courses is given towards degree.

Physical examinations are taken each quarter, showing height, weight and posture standing of all Physical Education Students.

LIBRARY SCIENCE

MISS HARRELL

This course is an elective one which carries one college hour of credit for A.B., or B.S., or Special students. Knowledge is gained in class as to what kind of material certain reference books, encyclopedias, and dictionaries contain, and also as to where one may profitably seek material on definite subjects. Such instruction enables one to use with increased reward any book at hand and increases her ability to do research and study throughout her college course.

MATHEMATICS

MISS JONES

I. COLLEGE ALGEBRA A.—Required of Freshmen. Four hours a week either semester. Two hours credit.

This course embraces the work usually covered in College Algebra to ratio and proportion, and is a review of formulae, factoring, solution of simple and quadratic equations, the theory of exponents, surds, and imaginary numbers.

The object is to give a clear knowledge of the principles previously studied in Elementary Algebra, with their practical application in independent problem solving.

II. PLANE TRIGONOMETRY.—Required of Freshmen. Four hours a week either semester. Two hours credit.

The subjects treated are trigonometric functions, trigonometric equations, inverse functions, the use of tables, and the application of Trigonometry to practical problems.

III. COLLEGE ALGEBRA B.—Open to students who have completed Course I. Freshmen may substitute Course III for Course II.

Four hours a week either semester. Two hours credit.

This course is a continuation of College Algebra A, and includes ratio and proportion, the progressions, the binomial theorem, series, logarithms, permutations and combinations, determinants, the theory of equations, and solution of higher equations.

IV. PLANE ANALYTIC GEOMETRY—Four hours a week for the second semester. Two hours credit. Prerequisite, Courses I, II, and III.

This course includes a study of the point, straight line, circle, parabola, ellipse, and hyperbola, with a discussion of the general equation of the second degree.

A very elementary introduction to Solid Analytic Geometry is given.

V. DIFFERENTIAL CALCULUS—Four hours a week for the first semester. Two hours credit. Prerequisite, Course IV.

This course covers the fundamental principles and processes of differentiation, application of the derivative, maxima and minima, and graphical methods.

VI. INTEGRAL CALCULUS—Four hours a week for the second semester. Two hours credit. Prerequisite, Course V.

A study is made of the integration of standard elementary forms, graphical methods, and simple applications to geometry, mechanics, and physics.

VII. HISTORY OF MATHEMATICS—Two hours a week for the first semester. One hour credit. This course is open to Juniors and Seniors, but will not be given unless at least five students are registered for it.

Great mathematicians and their contritbuions to mathematics are taken up in this course. The development of the subject is traced by means of lectures, reports and collateral readings.

VIII. TEACHING OF MATHEMATICS—Two hours a week for the second semester. One hour credit. This course is open to Juniors and Seniors, but will not be given unless at least five students are registered for it.

This course is designed for those who intend to teach mathematics. It includes a discussion of the fundamental principles of elementary mathematics, a comparison of text-books, and recent improvements in methods of teaching the subject in secondary schools.

IX. SOLID GEOMETRY—An elective course. Four hours a week for one semester. Two hours credit.

This course may be substituted for either semester of Freshman work.

A study is made of lines and planes in space, dihedral and polyhedral angles, projections, prisms, pyramids, cylinders, cones, spheres, and spherical triangles.

Much time is devoted to the solution of original exercises.

MUSIC

The College offers superior advantages in Music. This subject is open to all students admitted to the College.

Candidates for the B.A. degree or for the B.S. degree who wish also the Certificate in Music should plan to devote five years in the College Course.

All resident students desiring to specialize in Music, will be given the opportunity of doing that work which they wish. All such students are expected to do fifteen hours of work, twelve of which must be Academic.

The facilities for teaching, practicing, and ensemble playing are wholly adequate. For Concert, Recital, and Lecture purposes there is a fine college auditorium, with a seating capacity of five hundred, and furnished with opera chairs. Its musical equipment includes a large and excellent three-manual Concert Organ, also two Everett full Concert Grand Pianos.

The plan of instruction has a solid foundation, broad in scope, and high in standard, the purpose being to present courses in each department that shall be logical, rational, sympathetic, and productive of musical thought and culture.

Attention is particularly called to the unusually complete course in theoretical branches; they are arranged as a parallel to the courses in practical music, the object being to train the young student thoroughly in the technics of composition and esthetics of the art of music.

These courses are obligatory, if a student desires to take a certificate in any branch of practical music.

Periodical recitals are required from students in all departments; these embrace both ensemble and individual performance.

Public concerts, recitals, and lectures upon musical subjects are given from time to time, by the Faculty and advanced students.

Systematic practice being of the utmost importance for rapid advancement in music, personal supervision will be given by the Director and Musical Faculty generally.

A student desiring to sing or play at a public event in the city, should ask and receive consent of the Director before doing so.

A knowledge of music is now considered a necessary part of a liberal education, and society demands that a musician shall be broadly trained as regards general culture, as well as in the specialities of her own art. This being especially so in the case of one preparing to teach, attention is called to the catalog statement bearing upon the teachers' course.

The course of study includes Piano, Organ, Sight Singing, Vocal Culture, Theory, Harmony, Counterpoint, Form, Analysis, and Acoustics; also a course of general Reading and Musical History, selected by the Director of Music to suit the requirements of the pupil.

The Faculty of Music is composed of carefully selected teachers, who have had first-class European or American training, selected with a view of imparting instruction upon homogeneous lines, both as regards special lines and grades of study.

Practical Music

The study of Theory is essential as a preparation for any course in practical music. All who enter for music are expected to join the class in this subject, or pass the test examination.

Where specific studies or pieces are mentioned, they are to be taken as specimens of types which can be replaced by others of a similar nature, at the discretion of the teacher.

Each division is intended to be a year's course, but it must be distinctly understood that no grade certificate will be awarded unless all-round satisfactory progress has been made.

Studies—Special studies from Clementi, Chopin, etc.

Pieces—A program for recital to be selected from the different types of composition; this must include a Fugue and a Sonata, together with pieces in the Romantic and Modern styles of music.

Sight Reading—

(a) To read readily a piece of ordinary difficulty.
(b) To accompany a song.
(c) To transpose a simple song accompaniment one or two semitones above or below the key given.

Questions on pianoforte technique.

Organ*

Students should not commence the study of this instrument until a good practical knowledge of pianoforte technique has been obtained.

As the Organ is principally used in connection with the Church service, opportunity will be afforded, from time to time, for organ students to play for worship, and special attention will be given to the art of Service Accompaniment.

The Manual scale and arpeggio work is the same as for the corresponding grade in pianoforte playing, and is best learned on the pianoforte.

The College Organ, upon which the students practice, was built for the Auditorium of the late Charleston Exposition, and there used for the recital purposes. The gold medal for excellence in organ building was awarded to the builder, M. P. Moller, of Hagerstown, Md. It is a large, three-manual instrument, complete in every detail.

The work in Organ Playing includes a thorough grounding in such foundation studies as those of Stainer, Best, Rink, Buck, etc., which lead up to the study of the works of Bach, Mendelssohn, Lemmens, Widor, ets. When sufficiently advanced, students will have opportunity given them to play for College Service, while the art of Church Choir Accompaniment receives full attention, and a knowledge is given of Organ construction and stop registration, etc.

Organ pupils taking one-half hour per week will be limited to one hour's practice a day.

Voice Culture*

Italian Method (Bel Canto)—Three years' course.

General course in voice development, technique, and interpretation, progressive vocalises, songs, arias; English, French, Italian, and diction. This course is designed both for professional training and for general culture.

Special attention given to proper breathing, articulation, and phrasing, with a perfect blending of the three registers—chest, medium, and head.

Students from all music departments, when prepared to do so, are privileged to attend the weekly rehearsals of the Choral Class, where they are carefully trained in Concert singing, and are expected to take part in several public performances during the year.

Pianoforte (2) and Pianoforte (3) required for Diploma.

*The courses in Organ and Violin playing are graded similarly to those in Pianoforte Music. This applies to Vocal Culture.

Theoretical Music

Theory and Harmony—First Year.

Notation, Time Signatures, Scale Construction, Intervals. The C Clefs, Transposition, Musical Terms, Harmony, Common Chords and their inversions, Dominant Seventh and Inversions, adding three parts above a figured Bass.

Two hours a week.

Harmony and Counterpoint—Second Year.

Suspensions. Chord of the Ninth and its inversions. Harmonizing Melodies. Counterpoint in two and three parts, through the fifth species.

Three hours a week.

Harmony and Counterpoint—Third Year.

Chords of the Eleventh and Thirteenth Augmented Sixth, Dim Triad, Modulation, Passing Notes, Chromatically Altered Chords, Pedal Point, Harmonization of Melodies, adding three parts above a given Bass. Counterpoint in four parts, first, second, third, fourth, and fifth Species.

Three hours a week.

Students taking a Certificate in Piano must play from memory a program, selected and approved by the Director, and in addition must complete the required theoretical courses.

History of Music

COURSE 1—Oriental and ancient music; first ten centuries of the Christian era; epoch of the Netherlands; origin and development of opera and oratorio, through the seventeenth century; instruments and instrumental music up to the seventeenth century.

Two hours throughout the year. Required for certificate. Credit, 2 hours.

COURSE 2—Bach, Handel; Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven; Sonata development; progress of opera up to the present day, Italian, French, and German; oratorio and passion music; romantic school; development of the song; instrumental music up to the present day; modern composers.

Two hours throughout the year. Required for graduation. Credit 2 hours.

Musical Appreciation

COURSES 1 AND 2—Designed for general musical culture, and for the development of the ability to listen intelligently to the best music; detailed study of musical forms and works of important composers. No previous training in music is required.

One hour per week for two years. Credit, 1 hour for each year.

Certificate in Music

Candidates for a Certificate in Music must offer fifteen entrance units. Other requirements are fifty-one hours of College work, Theory and History of Music to be included in the fifty-one hours.

Sight Singing

Sight Singing should be included in the course of every music student, irrespective of quality of voice, for in this study the ear is trained by constant comparison to an accurate perception of all rhythms and time forms met with in ordinary music. Choirmasters and teachers of music, who have constantly to deal with vocalists and vocal students, have cause to regret that the power to read music correctly is possessed by so few singers.

First Year Course—This includes both ear training and sight singing, beginning with the simplest intervals and rhythms, progressing by easy stages until it includes the most difficult passages to be found in modern music.

One hour per week. Required in the first year.

Second Year Course—Continued study of intervals, rhythm, dictation, transposition, and triads.

One hour per week. Required in the second year.

In addition to the necessary graded work in Theoretical and Practical Music, a program of representative standard compositions for public recital must be prepared.

Certificate in Organ

Third Year Theory, and in addition a course in Organ Construction. Candidates must give a public recital, and must be prepared to transpose a Hymn Tune at sight into any key named by the examiners, also to play from full Vocal Score, using proper clefs. Sight Reading.

Certificate in Voice

Theory, Third Year—Practical Work, and in addition Transposition of a song into any key named. To sing Scales. Major and Minor Harmonic Form. Major and Minor Arpeggios, and a public recital. Sight Reading.

To students who have taken Certificate in Music, the following additional courses are offered:

In Piano

Harmony—Four and five-part harmony and counterpoint. Double counterpoint in octave, tenth, twelfth, and fifteenth. Canon and Fugue (to four parts inclusive). Instrumentation. Selected critical and historical works bearing upon music.

In Voice

Theory as for piano examination. All the work of graduates in Voice, and in addition Minor Scales, Melodic Form; Arpeggios, Dominant and Diminished Sevenths, Chromatic Scales. Sight Reading.

In Organ

Theory, same as for Piano. All students completing this course are required to give public recital, and, in addition, to play from figured Bass.

PHILOSOPHY

MISS ASHFORD

I. (a) Logic. A study of the fundamental laws of thought. In this course emphasis is placed upon the vital connection between Logic and practical problems of every-day life.

Three hours a week, first semester. Credit, 1½ hours. Open to Seniors.

(b) Plato. An intensive study of the Republic, Gorgias, Laws, Protagoras, Symposium, Phaedo, and Phaedrus, with other dialogs used as collateral reading. The object of this course is to give the student an intimate acquaintance with the philosophy of Plato, with special emphasis on the educational bearings of his philosophy.

Three hours a week the second semester. Credit, 1½ hours.

Open to Seniors.

II. History of Philosophy. A general survey of the development of philosophic thought from its origin in Greece.

Three hours a week throughout the year. Credit, 3 hours. Open to Seniors. Philosophy I or II will be required of Seniors.

PSYCHOLOGY

MISS ASHFORD

I. General Psychology. A study of the general principles of Psychology. Lectures, text-book work and supplementary reading.

Four hours a week, first semester. Credit, 2 hours. Required of Juniors.

II. Experimental Psychology. An introduction to methods in use in the psychological laboratory. This course is open to those who have completed Psychology I. Required of Juniors.

Credit, 1 hour. To be offered second semester.

III. Social Psychology. A study of the psychology of the crowd and social institutions, with emphasis on the rôle of instincts and general instinctive tendencies in social behavior.

Three hours a week, first semester. Credit, 1½ hours. Open to Seniors.

For courses in Educational Psychology see Education.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

DR. SHEWMAKER

The raison d' etre of a Christian College is the preparation for Christian life and service. The courses of study must be as rigid as those of any other institution of like purpose, and in addition there must be something that will differentiate it from so-called secular institutions with like scholastic purpose.

The following course is introduced into the curriculum of Queens College with the hope that it may enable young ladies to become more proficient in the work of the Church, and at the same time contribute its part towards the general culture aimed at by the institution. The course consists of four years, a part of which will be counted as credit towards the A.B. degree, and another part of which will be counted as credit towards the B.S. degree.

I. BIBLE, Freshman year. This year traces the record of the Sacred text from the Creation of the world to the Return of the people of Judah from Babylonian captivity, and their civil life under Nehemiah; from Genesis to Nehemiah.

Three hours a week throughout the year. Credit, 3 hours.

II. BIBLE, Sophomore year. During this year we study the five Poetical books of the Bible; the Prophetical books, the Inter-Biblical Period, and the New Testament.

Three hours a week throughout the year. Credit, 3 hours.

III (a). ETHICS. This course deals with the most important aspects of ethical history and theory, and with present individual and social problems. Lectures and supplementary reading.

Three hours a week, first semester. Credit, 1½ hours. Open to Seniors.

(b). Religious Psychology. This course will lay special emphasis on The Pupil; The Teacher; Character Formation; Habit, and Disposition.

Three hours a week, second semester. Credit, 1½ hours.

IV. (a). THE THEORY AND PRACTICE OF RELIGIOUS WORK. First semester.

The course will include the various organizations of the Church, and the matter of approach to the point of contact with the various groups through the medium of the different organizations, such as the Sabbath School, Ladies' Auxiliaries, Young People's Societies, etc. Actual practice in teaching and other work will be given in some of the thoroughly organized Sabbath Schools of Charlotte, and experience in other forms of work. Deputations to mill settlements and other places will be sent for religious services, under the direction of the professor in charge of the department.

Credit, 1½ hours.

(b). Christian Evidence, second semester. A thorough examination of the fundamentals of religious faith will be made, and the confidence of the student will be thoroughly established in them.

Credit, 1½ hours.

SCIENCE

MISS STONE MISS BYRD

METHODS OF TEACHING SCIENCE

MISS STONE

I. Special problems in the Teaching of Science in the High Schools. The main purpose of this course is to acquaint the students in education with the special problems related to recent movements in science teaching. The attempt to show in a concrete way how modern experimental and educational psychology may be applied in science teaching. The explanation of principles and methods applicable to the sciences of the high school. The selection and organization of subject matter, the planning of laboratories and choice of equipment are discussed.

Supervised observation and fifteen hours of teaching will be required if students wish State Certificates for Teaching.

Three hours a week, first semester. Credit, 1½ hours. Open to Juniors or Seniors who have had courses in Education.

HISTORY OF SCIENCE

MISS STONE

I. HISTORY OF SCIENCE—The chief aim of this course is to present a broad, general perspective of the evolution of science, to broaden the range of the students' interests and to encourage discriminating scientific reading.

Three lectures during the second semester. Credit, 1½ hours. Open to Juniors and Seniors.

ASTRONOMY

I. DESCRIPTIVE ASTRONOMY—This course deals with the descriptive phase of the subject, and is intended to give general information concerning celestial phenomena. When the weather permits, the class meets once a week for observation of the celestial hemisphere. Mathematics I and some knowledge of Physics are prerequisites.

Three hours per week for one semester. Time to be arranged according to enrollment.

BACTERIOLOGY

MISS STONE

I. GENERAL BACTERIOLOGY—This course includes a study of bacteria, the common moulds and yeasts in relation to daily life. The cultural and staining reactions of bacteria and their distribution are considered. Theories of immunity, infection, industrial hygiene are discussed.

Three hours a week, first semester. Two lectures and recitations, and four hours laboratory work. Laboratory fee, $5.00. Credit, 1½ hours. Biology I or Chemistry I, prerequisite.

BIOLOGY

MISS BYRD

I. GENERAL BIOLOGY—This introductory course is designed to acquaint the student with the more important principles of organization and of the life relations of organisms.

About a third of the year's work is devoted to each of the following divisions of the subject:

(a) The structure and functions of typical plants.

(b) The structure and functions of typical animals.

(c) A discussion of general biological problems, such as the structure and activities of protoplasm and the cell, development and differentiation, genetic relations and adaptations.

Two lectures and recitations, and four hours laboratory throughout the year. Credit, 3 hours. Laboratory fee, $10.00.

Open to all Freshmen and Sophomores.

II. HUMAN PHYSIOLOGY—A comparative study of the fundamental facts and theories which underlie the morphology and normal functions of the human body. Laboratory work consists of experimental physiology and chemical physiology.

The class meets three times a week; one lecture, one recitation, and three hours of laboratory work first semester. During the second semester a second recitation may sometimes be held in place of the laboratory exercises.

Credit, 3 hours. Laboratory fee, $5.00. Open to Sophomores or Juniors. Biology I is prerequisite.

III. ZOOLOGY—Comparative morphology and biology of animals as represented by a series of types of the most important classes of vertebrates.

Three hours a week, first semester. Two hours lecture and recitation, and four hours laboratory. Laboratory fee, $5.00. Credit, 1½ hours.

Open to Juniors and Seniors. Biology I is prerequisite.

IV. BOTANY—The structure, physiology, and genetic relations of plants.

Three hours a week, second semester. Two hours lecture and recitation and four hours laboratory. Laboratory fee, $5.00. Credit, 1½ hours.

Open to Juniors and Seniors. Biology I is prerequisite.

CHEMISTRY

MISS STONE

I. GENERAL CHEMISTRY—This course is intended to familiarize the student with the properties of the elements and compounds, and their modes of preparation. The fundamental principles governing chemical reactions and the more recent theories adopted in the science are discussed, leading up to the study of Qualitative Analysis.

Three hours lecture and recitation and four hours of laboratory work throughout the year. Credit, 4 hours. Laboratory fee, $10.00.

Open to Freshmen and Sophomores.

II. QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS—This study includes the modern theories of analytical chemistry. Especial attention is given to the discussion of solution, equilibrium and mass action.

One recitation and six hours of laboratory work the first semester. Laboratory fee, $5.00. Credit, 1½ hours.

Open to Sophomores and Juniors. Chemistry I is prerequisite.

III. QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS—This course is designed to give training in gravimetric, volumetric, colorimetric, and electrolytic methods as applied in the analysis of mixtures, alloys, ores, foodstuffs, and pure compounds.

One lecture and six hours of laboratory work the second semester. Credit, 1½ hours. Laboratory fee, $5.00.

Open to Sophomores and Juniors. Chemistry I, prerequisite.

IV. HOUSEHOLD ORGANIC CHEMISTRY—This course includes the study of organic compounds of the aliphatic and aromatic series, composition and properties of carbohydrates, fats, and proteins. The testing of flour, fruits, etc., examination of eggs, milk and cheese, baking powders, tea, coffee, etc.

Two lectures and recitations, and three hours of laboratory work throughout the first semester. Credit, 1½ hours. Laboratory fee, $5.00.

Chemistry V is prerequisite.

V. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY—The compounds of carbon, of the aliphatic and aromatic series are studied. The laboratory work consists of a study of the important syntheses and reactions of the organic compounds discussed in the lecture room.

Three lectures and recitations, and four hours of laboratory work throughout the year. Credit, 3 hours. Laboratory fee, $10.00.

Open to Juniors and Seniors. Chemistry I is prerequisite.

GEOLOGY

MISS BYRD

I. PHYSICAL GEOLOGY—A study of materials of which the earth is built and their arrangement. The agencies (water in motion, wind, glaciers, igneous activity, and earth's movements resulting from strain) that have produced geological changes, together with their laws and modes of operation.

Three lecture periods a week, an occasional excursion trip on Monday, first semester. Credit, 1½ hours. Open to Seniors and Juniors.

II. HISTORICAL GEOLOGY—A study of (1) the life of the past as shown by fossil botany and zoology; (2) The boundaries of the lands and seas of the epochs and periods of the past, and evolution of the continents; (3) The arrangement and succession of the strata as indicated mainly by fossils.

Three lecture periods a week. Credit, 1½ hours. Open to Seniors and Juniors. Geology I is prerequisite.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. BOOKER MISS GAHR

TEXTILE AND SEWING—A study of history, source, manufacture, use, cost, and adaptability of textile materials with relation to clothing. Practice in hand and machine sewing, in the construction of cotton and linen garments; draping and drafting of a few tissue paper patterns as an aid to understanding of commercial patterns. The student furnishes her own materials.

One recitation and two two-hour laboratory periods per week each semester. Credit, 3 hours.

COSTUME DESIGN AND SEWING II—The course includes the renovation and remodeling of wool or silk dresses, the construction of simple afternoon and evening dresses, and of a few simple hats. Special consideration will be given to designs appropriate to the individual.

One hour a week will be devoted to the history of costume and to the study of modern costume design. This course must be preceded or accompanied by Principles of Art and Design. (See Art). Student furnishes her own materials. One lecture hour and two two-hour laboratory periods a week each semester. Credit, 3 hours.

DRESSMAKING AND MILLINERY—Continuation of Sewing II. The course involves the construction of tailored suits or coats, of draped dresses, and the more complicated types of hats.

Two two-hour laboratory periods a week for one semester. Credit, 1 hour.

FOODS I—A study of foods, their source, composition, nutritive value and cost. The theory and practice of cooking and serving of type dishes and meals.

One three-hour laboratory period and two recitations a week each semester. Credit, 3 hours.

FOODS II—An advanced study of foods, marketing, planning and serving of meals, with especial attention to menu making, correct service, cost, suitability and fuel value of foods.

One three-hour laboratory period, two recitations. Credit, 3 hours.

DIETETICS—The course aims to present the fundamental principles of human nutrition and to apply these principles to the feeding of the individuals and families under various physiological and economic conditions.

One three-hour laboratory period and one recitation a week each semester. Credit, 3 hours.

All students working in the food laboratory are requested to wear plain, washable dresses and long, plain white aprons with bibs.

THE MODERN HOME—A course in the planning, equipping and furnishing of the modern home.

Two lecture hours during the second semester. Credit, 1 hour.

HOUSEHOLD MANAGEMENT—A study of the care of the house, efficiency in household operations, marketing, the management of the income of individuals and of families.

Two recitations a week each semester, and at least one month of housekeeping experience in the Practice House is required. Credit, 2 hours.

HOME NURSING AND CHILD CARE—The home care of the sick when the services of a professional nurse are not required, the management of the sick room, and the care and feeding of children.

One two-hour laboratory period a week for one semester. Credit, ½ hour.

METHODS OF TEACHING HOME ECONOMICS—The aims and principles of Education applied to Home Economics and special problems in this subject will be considered in this course. Students will be required to prepare lesson plans and teach not less than thirty lessons, under supervision. Students who are not making credit in a required number of hours will not be allowed to do practice teaching.

Two recitations a week each semester. Credit, 2 hours.

PHYSICS

MISS STONE AND MISS BYRD

I. GENERAL PHYSICS—An introductory course designed to meet the needs of students desiring a general knowledge of physics. The elementary principles of physics are accurately treated with experimental demonstrations and laboratory work.

Two hours lecture and recitation, and three hours laboratory throughout the year. Credit, 3 hours. Laboratory fee, $8.00. Mathematics I is prerequisite.

II. HOUSEHOLD PHYSICS—A study of the laws and properties of matter, sound, light, heat, electricity, and magnetism. Designed to meet the needs of the students in the Home Economics Department.

Three hours lecture and two hours laboratory work the second semester. Credit, 1½ hours. Laboratory fee, $5.00.

SPANISH

MISS WEST MISS MITCHELL

I. ELEMENTARY COURSE—Given especially for those students who have not had Spanish, and for those who may not be sufficiently prepared to enter Spanish II. A thorough knowledge of the rudiments of grammar. The ability to write from dictation easy Spanish sentences. As far as possible, the classes are conducted in Spanish.

II. INTERMEDIATE COURSE—Practical grammar completed. Careful study of common idioms and drill in the conjugation of irregular verbs. The purpose of this course is: (1) To aid the student who does not expect to specialize in Spanish but desires a working command of the every-day language; (2) To aid the student who intends to study Spanish literature and needs as background a knowledge of Spanish customs, history, and ideals.

Three hours a week throughout the year. Credit ,3 hours.

III. SURVEY OF THE NOVEL—La novela caballeresca, la novela pastoril, la novela picaresca. La Vida del Buscon, Don Quijote. Also studies of Caballero, Galdos, Pereda, Pardo, Bazan, Valdes, Ibanez, and Perez de Ayala.

Three hours a week throughout the year. Credit, 3 hours.

IV. SURVEY OF THE DRAMA from the theatre of the seventeenth century. Lope de Vega, Tirso de Molina, Calderon de la Barca, Martinez de la Rosa, el Duque de Rivas, Espronceda, Zorrilla, Hartzenbusch, los hermanos Quintero, and Jacinto Benavente.

Three hours a week throughout the year. Credit, 3 hours.

V. ADVANCED CONVERSATION AND COMPOSITION.

One hour a week throughout the year. Credit, 1 hour.

SPOKEN ENGLISH AND EXPRESSION

MISS KING

Training in this department will cover a broad field of the best literature, and seek to awaken in the student a realization of her own powers as a creative and interpretative thinker.

This course is offered for the purpose of improving the speaking voice. Exercises are given for the improvement of the articulation. Articulation and pronunciation are stressed and the provincialisms of everyday speech definitely pointed out. Great stress will be laid upon the development of the body; and no student will be granted a certificate in Spoken English who has not given proper attention to the physical basis of the work, as well as to the literary and interpretative side. Candidates for certificate must include in the required literary work for the course six hours of English, six hours of Latin or Modern Language, three hours of History, and three hours of Psychology.

It will take four years for the average student to attain the requisite proficiency in understanding and application of all the subjects included in the following course, leading to a certificate in Expression.

I. Vocal Expression

1. Voice modulations caused by thinking.
2. Voice problems.
3. Logical relations of ideas.

II. Vocal Training

1. Correct breathing.
2. Qualities of voice.
3. Flexibility of voice.
4. Resonance.
5. Voice Problems.

III. Training of Body

1. Harmonic gymnastics.
2. Pantomimic training.

IV. Pantomimic Expression

1. Pantomomic problems.
2. Dramatic problems.
3. Unity in action.

V. Creative Expression

1. Public speaking, including extemporaneous speaking, debate and story-telling.

2. Abridgment and interpretative reading of short story classics and standard novels.

3. The monologue.
4. Shakesperean studies.
5. Types of literature.
6. Dramatic rehearsal.
7. Dramatic thinking.

VI. Criticism

VII. Harmony of Expression

GENERAL INFORMATION

OUR RELIGIOUS LIFE

Each day is begun with worship in the Chapel. At this service there will be responsive Scripture reading, singing of hymns and prayer. By reference to the course of study it will be seen that the Bible is a required text-book.

Attendance at church is required.

Every effort is made to encourage and promote the work of the Y. W. C. A. Mission classes and Bible Study classes will be organized under the auspices of this association and much attention will be given to the social side of school life. Both teachers and students are expected to attend the Y. W. C. A. religious services on Sabbath evening, unless providentially hindered.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The students have two Literary Societies, the Gamma Sigma and the Pi Delta. The societies have a large membership, and are accomplishing much good for themselves and for the College. Under their fostering care a very good library has been gathered. Some of the Alumnæ have presented books, and it is hoped that other friends of the College will also help to fill the library shelves with reference works.

Through the efforts of the students, assisted by friends, the two large Society halls have been furnished.

The Society halls are on the first floor of the Administration Building, on either side of the College parlors.

LIBRARY

The management of the College is indeed grateful to the Alumnae Association for the contribution to the Library. It is growing rapidly, and the additions are exceedingly valuable books.

HEALTH

All the natural conditions of good health are found here, but since no locality, even under the best circumstances, is exempt from sickness, Queens College has made every preparation to prevent it, and also to treat it if it comes.

The medical certificate furnished to each student must be filled out by the family physician, and sent in to the President after September 1st.

At the beginning of the year, each student is examined carefully by the physical director, and parents are notified of any irregularity requiring special corrective exercises. If upon examination girls are found to be unable to take the regular gymnasium work they will be put in a special class.

Lectures will be delivered to the student body on personal and sanitary hygiene, and every means known to preventive medicine to ward off sickness will be used. If sickness occurs, skilled attention is given at once. The matron has charge of the Infirmary, and gives her entire time to looking after those who need her care. No charge is made for use of Infirmary, nor for services of the nurse in ordinary cases. All medicines and extraordinary expenses incurred by the College in contagious diseases must be paid for by patrons.

Parents and friends are earnestly requested not to send boxes containing edibles, other than fruits, to the students. Rich, heavy food, at irregular hours, is a most effectual means of undermining the health. Chafing dishes are not allowed. If electric stoves are used the owner must deposit a fee of $2.50 per Semester (payable in advance) in the business office and secure a permit signed by the Registrar.

FURNISHINGS

The College supplies all rooms with bedsteads, dressers, chairs, mattresses, and pillows. Each person has her own wardrobe, and the bath rooms render washstands and crockery unnecessary.

Teachers and students are required to furnish their own towels, bed clothing, including blankets, sheets, spreads, pillow-cases, twenty by twenty-eight inches, table napkins, two clothes bags, a small teaspoon and a drinking glass for their private use in their own rooms; also such rugs as are desired.

Students must bring umbrellas, overshoes, raincoats, kimonas, and slippers.

All articles, including trunks, bags, and suitcases, must be plainly and durably marked with the name of the owner. Whatever needs to be washed should be marked with Cash's woven names.

DRESS

No uniforms are required, nor is expensive dressing encouraged by the College, only neatness and simplicity. It is earnestly desired that the utmost simplicity in dress shall prevail, and that the students bring with them only what is needed for entire neatness, both in underwear and dresses. Anything else is inconsistent with the simple, natural life which we wish them to lead, and out of harmony with what is considered the best college spirit. In every possible way extravagance is discouraged. It is requested that students do not bring with them any jewelry or articles of especial value.

Parents are requested, as far as possible, to have their daughters attend to dressmaking and dentistry before leaving home.

LECTURES, CONCERTS, AMUSEMENTS

A number of lectures upon a variety of topics will be given at intervals during the year, as arrangements can be made.

The boarding pupils, invariably, under charge of members of the Faculty, have frequent opportunities of attending lectures, concerts, etc., in the city. The best concert and dramatic companies come to Charlotte, on account of the size of the city and of the excellent auditoriums. There are also stated musical and dramatic recitals by teachers and students.

Attendance upon public entertainments is limited, with reference both to the character and the frequency of such entertainments. The President reserves to himself the right of absolute veto in all doubtful cases.

VISITS AND VISITORS

Pupils will receive calls from relatives, or from other acquaintances who bring letters of introduction to the President from the parents, on Monday afternoon and Saturday evening. No visitors will be received on Sundays, or during any regular recitation hour.

When we know that there is to be a vacancy, any member of the college family may have a guest for a meal after first securing a ticket from the Secretary.

It is a pleasure to have parents and friends visit the institution, and if they will kindly notify the President of any intended visit he will be glad to engage board for them at a hotel or a private boarding house. The College maintains no guest room. Therefore to have a guest overnight will depend upon a vacancy in the house.

No leave of absence will be granted except upon a special request addressed to the Dean by the parent or guardian. In no case will this request be honored if it is contained in an envelope addressed to any other person than the Dean.

Calls and short visits in town will be made only with permission of the Dean.

EXPENSES FOR THE COLLEGE YEAR

BOARDING STUDENTS

Board, including room, light, heat, baths, attendance of resident trained nurse, gymnasium and infirmary fees	$290.00
Tuition, including all subjects offered in the curriculum except specials	100.00
Library Fee	4.00
Total charge	$394.00

Payable on entrance in September, $154.00; November 20, $80.00; January 20, $80.00; March 20, $80.00.

These charges are intended to meet all necessary college expenses for the entire year, laundry, books and stationery not included.

There are certain purely voluntary expenses, incident to residence in any college, such as contributions to the Y. W. C. A., the Literary Societies, Athletic Association, and class functions. The Faculty of Queens College exercises a careful oversight over these matters and is of the opinion that all combined should not exceed fifteen dollars for the College year.

N. B.—The enrollment of a student's name on the College books renders the parent or guardian responsible, and shall be deemed a formal and explicit contract for her to remain until the close of the school year.

No deduction is made for the absence or withdrawal of a pupil during the school year, nor for her absence during any part of it, except in the case of permanent illness, when the amount prepaid for board will be refunded.

No student will be received for less than a full term, or such part as remains after the date of entrance, except by special agreement.

Books, music, and incidental expenses will not be advanced; a deposit of ten or fifteen dollars should be made with the College, at the beginning of each term. This will be subject to the student's check.

Pupils matriculating during the first three weeks of the term are charged as from the first day of the term. After that time, they are charged from the date of entrance.

Pupils not returning after the Christmas holidays will be charged for full term.

No deductions for any cause will be allowed to students withdrawing during the last four weeks of the session.

Should serious or critical illness occur, the most skilled physicians of the city are called in. In this case, their fees must be paid in addition. The Infirmary has a nurse, but in case of serious or protracted illness a special nurse will be employed at the expense of the patient.

Rooms will be assigned in the order of application. A deposit of ten dollars must be made to insure the engagement of a room, which will be credited on first statement rendered.

Pupils are not admitted to classes until bills are paid, unless by special agreement.

DISCOUNTS

Daughters of Ministers of the Gospel will be given free tuition in all literary branches, but will be charged catalog prices for board and special studies.

A discount of five per cent will be given where two or more students come from the same family and are taking full literary work. Two discounts may not be given the same person. No discount on Music, Art, etc.

For further information, address

DR. W. H. FRAZER, President.
